Reservation Details

The Heald Tract is a 1492-acre reservation stretching across Wilton, Temple, Greenville and Mason, NH. The original 340+ acre tract was donated to the Forest Society by the Heald family in 1986, and the three Heald siblings have donated a total of 1,030 acres since, with the objective that the land be maintained as an open space used for low impact recreation and education.

Did you know? The trails cross over a rich, ecologically diverse habitat, so keep your eyes open for wild animals like deer and otter, and your ears open for bird calls. There is also a large beaver dam on Castor Pond, which is accessible on the Camp Trail. Loop.

Trail Information

With over 8 miles of trails, the Heald Tract offers many different hiking options. We recommend two here:

- Heald Pond Trail: Leaves from either parking area on Heald Road. Easy 1.6 mi hike following shoreline of a beautiful wildlife pond, yellow blazes.
- Camp Trail/Castor Pond Loop: Trail leaves from southernmost parking area on Heald Road. Moderately strenuous 4.0 miles (blue and green blazes). The Castor Pond Loop can also be accessed from McGregor Road parking (white and green blazed trails).

Getting There/Directions

The parking areas for the Heald Tract are accessed off of Route 101 in Wilton. Exit Route 101 onto Russell Hill Road. In 1.3 miles, the McGregor Road parking pull off will be on your right. To reach the parking areas on Heald Pond Road, continue past McGregor Road on Russell Hill Rd (turns into Kimball Hill) for 1.6 miles and turn right on Heald Road. The two Heald Road parking areas are in 0.2 and 0.6 miles, respectively.

Google Maps: Entering "McGregor Road, Wilton NH" will get directions to McGregor Road parking. Entering "Heald Pond Trail, Wilton, NH" will get you directions to the larger Heald Road parking area.
